

HIGHEST TRIBUTE OF NATION IS ACCORDED TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Body is Received by Comrades in Arms from the Olympia and Escorted to Capitol—
President and Mrs. Harding and Many
Officials Place Tributes on the Casket

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A plain soldier, unknown, but weighted with honors as perhaps no American before him because he died for the flag in France, lay tonight in a place where only martyred presidents, Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley, have slept in death.

He kept lonely vigil, lying in state under the vast, shadowy dome of the capitol. Only the motionless figures of the five armed comrades, one at the head and one facing inward at each corner of the bier, kept watch with him.

But far above, towering from the great bulk of the dome, the brooding figure of Freedom watched too, as tho it was "well done," to the servant, faithful unto death, asleep there in the vast, dim chamber below.

America's unknown dead is home from France and the nation has no honor too great for him. In him, it pays unstinted tribute of pride and glory to all those sleeping in the far soil of France. It was their homecoming today; their day of days, in the heart of the nation and they must have known it, for the heart-beat of a nation defies the laws of space, even eternity.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS

Consumer Pays Twice as Much as Farmer Gets

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—Why the finished product of farm and cattle range costs the consumer more than twice as much as the farmer or cattle grower gets for his product was discussed today at a conference held here under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The figures referred to were supplied by J. N. Vander Vries, Chicago, general western manager of the chamber. He said statistics gathered by the national chamber showed that the farmer and livestock raiser received about thirty per cent of the amount the consumer paid for farm products.

Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer, told members of the conference that 89 per cent of the amount the packers received for all meat products went to the livestock raiser a gross margin of profit of eleven per cent to the packers.

In a statement tonight Mr. Wilson declared farmers of the middle west cannot afford to burn corn for fuel when this feed can be turned into hogs bringing $7.00 and upward per hundred pounds.

Ten to thirteen bushels of corn when properly fed, he said, would develop one hundred pounds of pork.

J. H. Moehrer, secretary of the Kansas Board of Agriculture told the conference that the farmer had realized that producers had saved costs and obtained better distribution by marketing their products thru large units and that it was because they realized this and realized that under the present hit and miss system of marketing farm products, the farmer received too little and the consumer paid too much, that farmers everywhere were now taking an active interest in cooperative marketing associations of their own.

John N. Vander Vries, general western manager for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, speaking of the general purposes of the conference, said that it was making an honest effort to find out some of the things that are wrong with the present system of distribution from producer to consumer, with a view to eliminating unnecessary costs and improving the system.

Freight rates, grain prices and possible advantages of holding grain in warehouses for more favorable markets and borrowing money on warehouse receipts were discussed tonight.

A. L. Filer of Boston spoke briefly on wastage. Speaking before the conference earlier Mr. Filer declared that it was important that the conference meet in the spirit of finding out what was wrong with the present system of distribution and remedying it.

"If we are here to defend the distribution system as it exists today and to assert there is nothing wrong with it or with the ultimate costs which it produces," he said, "we might as well go home."

Sudden skies and a gray, creeping chill rain all day, seemed to mark the mourning of this American soldier and air at the bier of this unknown hero. But no jot of the full meed of honor was denied the dead on that account. From the highest officials to the last soldier or marine or bluejacket, rain and cold meant nothing beside the desire to do honor to the honor soldier.

Today's ceremonies were brief. They began when the far boom of saluting cannon down the river signalled the coming of the Cruiser Olympia.

The fog hid her slow approach up the Potomac past by post, the guns took up the tale of honors as she passed. Slowly the ship swung into her dock. Along her rails stood her crew in long lines of dark blue, rigid at attention and with a solemn expression uncommon to the young faces. Asten under the long, gray muzzle of a gun that once echoed its way into history, more than twenty years ago in Manila Bay, lay the flag draped casket. Above, a tented awning held off the dipping rain the inner side of the canvas lined with great American flags to make a canopy for the sleeper below.

At attention stood five sailors and marines, as guards of honor for the dead at each corner and the head of his bier.

Troops Await Body.

Below on the dock at Washington Navy Yard, a regiment of cavalry waited sabers at present, at the black draped gun caisson with its six black horses to carry the casket to the capitol. The troopers formed in line facing toward the ship as she swung broadside to her place and the gangway was lifted to her quarter deck. To their right, a mounted band stilled its restless horses.

On the ship the marine guard stood at attention. Rear Admiral Chandler to whom had fallen the duty of escorting the dead private soldier from France was garbed in the full formal naval dress as were officers of his staff.

Just as the ship's bell clanged out four o'clock the hour set for arrival the bugles rang again and the crew again lined the rails far above the dock. The marine guard filed down the gangway to face the troop across the dock the ship's band came down and formed beyond the marines. On deck at the gangway head four sides boys took their place on each line facing toward each other, the boatswain waiting behind them to pipe a dead comrade over the side with the honors accorded only to full admirals of the fleet.

On the bearing Secretaries Weeks and Denby, Assistant Secretary Wainwright, General Pershing, Major General Harbord, Admiral Coots and Major General Lejeune the marine commandant and their aides rolled up.

On deck the bugles called at attention, to ward a gun crashed the first drumming roll of the minute guns of sorrow. The Olympia's band sounded the opening chords of Chopin's funeral march and to the slow half step and carried high on the shoulders of his navy and marine comrades the unknown was tenderly lifted down to the deck.

Admiral Chandler and his aides came behind, cocked hats off in the cold rain and held across their breasts. Below, the cabinet members also stood bareheaded, the army and navy officers at salute.

Salute of Sea to the Dead.

Just as the casket passed out thru the rails over side to the plank, the wait of the boat sun's pipe sounded shrilling the last salute of the sea to the dead. It sounded oddly against the background of the dirge and as the sound of the pipe died away the

LIBERAL SUPPORT OF RED CROSS IS ASKED BY HARDING

Should be Regarded As Call of Country and Humanity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Harding asked the American people tonight to give their liberal support to the annual campaign of the Red Cross for relief contributions which begins Armistice Day and continues for two weeks.

The call of the Red Cross, he said in a formal statement, should be regarded as "the call of country and humanity."

He set aside next Sunday as "Red Cross Sunday" and requested that churches throughout the land devote that day to emphasizing "the gospel of service."

His statement follows:

To the American People:

"As President of the United States of America and as president of the American Red Cross, I announce that the Red Cross annual roll call will begin on Armistice Day, November 11, and continue thru Thanksgiving Day, November 24, and I designate November 13 as Red Cross Sunday.

"I recommend ministers and priests of all congregations to stress the gospel of service on November 12 and 13 and invite and urge my fellow citizens to accept the entire period of the roll call as an occasion for re-dedication of themselves to the principles and practice of service. The American Red Cross is both the volunteer and semi-official medium thru which our people may appropriately express their patriotic and humane desires to render practical assistance to their soldiers and sailors, to their fellow citizens in civilian life and to those peoples of other lands who have a human claim on the sympathetic concern of our own people.

"The American Red Cross has kept faith with the principles which gave it birth and with the obligations laid upon it by congressional charter—to act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their army and navy, after a notable war service, it in conjunction with the veterans' stands by our veterans and their families in a period of painful reconstruction in which as too many of us have been prone to forget, thousands are in pressing need, not only of governmental attention and assistance but also of those supplementary acts of human kindness which only voluntary mercy can supply. By systematic and scientific plans and equipment for relief from disaster and by prompt response to many urgent calls thruout the past year the American Red Cross has fulfilled an aggressive charter to continue and carry on system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, flood, and other great national calamities.

"After liquidating its obligations of general relief to peoples of other lands who were associated with us in the great war it has concentrated its foreign efforts on a program for the medical relief of children in central Europe and, from funds made available last year it continues this work of mercy and also contributes to its medical and hospital supplies for the work of relief in Russia which is operated under American direction.

"As a result of vast and varied experience during the world war, the American Red Cross has developed and put in operation an extensive domestic health and welfare program whereby our American communities are instructed and encouraged in the solution of the community problems upon which the public will ultimately rest.

"It is a fundamental principle of the Red Cross not to duplicate but to supplement the efforts of governmental and other agencies in the mitigation and alleviation of human suffering and to supply the means thereto where other agencies do not exist. The call of the American Red Cross is the call of country and humanity and I earnestly urge my fellow citizens to make that response which satisfies the promptings of a generous people."

DETROIT RAILWAY COMPANY TO TAKE UP ITS TRACKS

Will Abide by Decision of Voters at Polls Tuesday

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 9.—Conforming to an ordinance adopted by the voters here yesterday the Detroit United Railway will discontinue operations on two of the principal thoroughfares by November 25 to make way for municipal street car lines, A. F. Edwards, vice-president of the company said tonight.

Submission of the ordinance to a vote followed refusal of the company to accept the city's offer of $388,000 for the lines on Ford street and lower Woodward avenue where the company's franchise had expired.

Edwards' statement indicates the suspension of service and removal of all the company's properties without litigation. The company, he stated will continue to operate its other Detroit lines, the Ford and Woodward lines aggregate about ten miles, crossing in the center of the business district and provide transportation facilities for thousands of workers in industrial plants. The suspension was fostered by Mayor James Couzens, rejected yesterday on a platform in which municipal ownership of transportation lines was a principal plank.

MEMORIAL HELD WEDNESDAY FOR PREMIER HARA

Was Held at the Japanese
Embassy at Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—During an impressive memorial service held today at the Japanese embassy for Premier Hara, who was assassinated last Friday at Tokyo, Senjuro Yokota, who particularly represents the Japanese cabinet, revealed that on the eve of the sailing of the armament conference delegation from Japan, Mr. Hara expressed the conviction that President Harding, in calling the conference, was the instrument of God.

The premier was not known as a religious man and Mr. Yokota said he was deeply moved to hear his chief burst into a flood of religious emotion in discussing the Washington conference.

"President Harding has been inspired by God to do this," said the premier, "and it behooves mankind, which is represented at this conference, to accomplish things for the high and lasting benefit of humanity. If the men who go to Washington from the various countries do not succeed, I firmly believe that it is because human nature has not attained the stage of perfection which God expects of it. If the conference fails, I believe it means that mankind must further suffer."

ROCKFORD MAN TO RECEIVE APPOINTMENT

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Gay W. Ginders, of Rockford, will be named as associate director of the federal prohibition enforcement department of Illinois under a re-organization soon to be brought about, it was announced here today. Mr. Ginders was a candidate for appointment as United States marshal of Illinois. He is a member of the state legislature and a former sheriff of Winnebago county.

Support From Two Important Sources

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—While the delegation of the powers were quietly at work today perfecting their plans for the armament conference cheering assurances of support for the purposes of negotiations reached here from two important quarters of the old world.

David Lloyd George, the British premier in a message expressing regret that he could not attend the opening session on Saturday, declared the heart of Great Britain was "deeply set upon the success of the conference," and promised the diligent efforts of the United Kingdom toward a solution of the problems of armaments. It also became known thru unofficial channels that Pope Benedict had given his approval to the purposes set for the conference and might pronounce the official sanction of the holy see at the consistory of Nov. 21. He has prepared to maintain close contact with the negotiations as they develop.

The certainty of support by two such powerful forces encouraged all delegations as they conferred among themselves on the work ahead. For the most part these conferences produced no surface developments of importance altho they brought together for the first time the full membership of the American delegation and its advisory committee and gave representatives of the other powers occupied hitherto with ceremonial visits, a breathing space in which to review their plans.

The meeting of the American big four and the advisory committee of 21, was little more than a preliminary get together. The policies to be fostered by this government in the conference were laid before the committee members only in them out general way.

Former Senator George Sutherland of Utah was formally chosen chairman of the advisory body but further organization details were left in the hands of a special committee of six which will report at another meeting tomorrow.

Mr. Sutherland was placed at the head of the special committee whose other members are Samuel Gompers, Rear Admiral William L. Rodgers, Willard Saulsbury, Henry P. Fletcher and Mrs. Eleanor Franklin Egau. Further conferences are to be held tomorrow by nearly all the foreign delegations altho all of them will pause at some time to pay homage to the unknown American soldier dead.

A particularly elaborate tribute is to be by the British delegation who will make a ceremonial pilgrimage to the capitol to lay a wreath on the bier.

MESSAGE IS SENT TO PRESIDENT BY PREMIER GEORGE

Hopes to Be Able to Attend the Conference
Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Premier Lloyd George in a personal message delivered at the state department today by Ambassador Geddes, expressed regret at his inability to attend the opening session to the armament conference and declared that nothing but the intensely delicate state of the Irish negotiations and matters relating to unemployment legislation in parliament precluded his attendance.

The premier's message said: "Will you please express to President Harding my very keen regret and disappointment at having been unable to leave England in time to attend the opening of the Washington conference.

"The discussion to which he has invited the powers whose representatives assemble in Washington this week is of profound importance to the whole world. Nothing but the intensely delicate state of the Irish negotiations and the absolute obligation which I feel to parliament and the country to be present until those negotiations are completed and the government's unemployment legislation is in operation would have prevented my sailing last Saturday as I hoped to do. I must discharge that obligation before I leave but I will sail at the earliest possible moment and I had hoped to be with you before the conference reaches the deciding stage of its momentous work.

"I need not assure you in the meantime that the heart of Britain is deeply set upon the success of the conference."

ASKS MARRIAGE
ANNULMENT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 9.—John F. Masters, a real estate operator today filed proceedings to have his marriage annulled on the grounds that he has learned his wife is his first cousin. Mrs. Masters and her eleven-year-old daughter, by a previous marriage, are living in Chicago.

Masters explained he became acquainted with his wife in May of 1913, when he volunteered to carry the little daughter across a muddy street. They were married in August, 1917, and did not learn of their relationship until recently. Mrs. Masters has agreed to the annulment proceedings, Mr. Masters said.

LEWIS REFUSES TO

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 9.—A telegram from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, refusing the invitation of Frank Farrington, president of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, to attend the Illinois Mine Workers' convention now in session here, to answer criticisms of acts of the last international convention at Indianapolis was read this afternoon.

"Your invitation to attend the convention, of course, comes rather late in as much as I am engaged with a number of very important matters pertaining to our organization and its welfare and find it impossible to visit the convention," the telegram said. "I have in mind that the several matters you mention received consideration of the recent international convention, the supreme authority in the United Mine Workers of America, and I am reluctant to believe that the mine workers of district number twelve, desire to follow policies in contravention to the official action and official expressions of the governing authority of their organization."

"In view of the fact that we will soon enter wage negotiations for the making of a new contract, it is in my judgment a poor time for any member of our union to advocate or promote divisions in our councils. We are facing a period when we will require every atom of our strength and everyone should strive to maintain the solidarity of our organization."

POPE BENEDICT APPROVES PLAN OF PRESIDENT

Tried to Bring Peace
Between Powers
in 1917

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Pope Benedict approves President Harding's plan to bring about the limitation of armament by common understanding among the nations. The attitude of the Holy See is considered especially by Catholics as most important since it secures to the conference the support of what is termed by many the greatest moral and spiritual power in the world.

Although the pope has no representative at the conference, Monsignor Bonzano, apostolic delegate in Washington will follow the proceedings and report them to the Vatican. The Vatican's interest in the development of the conference is so great that an allusion to it may be made in the allocation which the pope will deliver in the consistory of November 21.

The Rome correspondents of The Associated Press understand the pope claims a priority in the movement for limitation or armaments which he hopes will lead to disarmament altogether, his peace note of August 1, 1917, to all the belligerent powers urged them to agree upon some fundamental principles of peace and the war and lead to just and lasting peace.

The Vatican was so concerned to deliver the note officially to the United States government that as Monsignor Bonzano's position is not of a diplomatic character the note was sent to the state department through the British foreign office and the British ambassador in Washington. It invited all the countries at war to agree upon the simultaneous and reciprocal decrease of armaments, limiting them only to what strictly was necessary for the domestic maintenance of public order.

At the same time Cardinal Gasparri to The Associated Press a statement in which the papal secretary of state further explained the pope's plan and his belief that only disarmament could assure a durable peace based upon principles of justice. Cardinal Gasparri still believes one of the chief reforms to that end is the abolition of conscription.

The United States and England have no conscription, the cardinal pointed out and he argues that with conscription abolished, an offensive war would be almost materially impossible in Europe, and arbitration would necessarily take its place.

LIGRENI WAS HANGED WEDNESDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Frank Ligreni, convicted slayer of his wife, a school teacher at Bartlett, Ill., was hanged at 3:28 p. m. today in the Cook county jail. The afternoon hanging, an innovation here, was set because of its moral effect on other prisoners. Sheriff Charles Peters said Ligreni shot his wife to death last December when she refused to give up her school and return to live with him. He made two attempts to escape the gallows on insanity pleas, but the second jury found him sane.

Yesterday Ligreni attacked his jailer, but with a heavy guard around him appeared resigned to his fate today.

WILL CURB BETTING ON FOOTBALL GAMES

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 9.—Direct action to curb betting on college football was taken here today when Stuyvesant Smith of Evanston, a senior in the University of Illinois was arrested charged with conducting a lottery in college games. The warrants were sworn out by George Huff, director of athletics. Smith was arraigned before Judge Freeman of the county court and released on $500 bond to appear Monday.

LLOYD GEORGE HOPES FOR GOOD RESULTS IN IRISH NEGOTIATIONS

Makes Address at Lord Mayor's Banquet in London—Says There are Prospects of Ireland Accepting English Proposals—
Also Touches on Disarmament Conference

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The lord mayor's banquet tonight assumed more than national importance when the premier replying to the mayor's toast to the cabinet ministers, followed the custom of such gatherings at the historic Guild Hall of speaking his mind regarding foreign affairs.

The tradition has been that the premier must touch only on foreign policies in his annual Guild Hall speech but in response to the lord mayor's suggestion that the guests anxiously awaited news of the Irish conference, Mr. Lloyd George quickly expanded his statement that "the Washington conference is like a rainbow in the sky," and then passed to the question of Ireland.

He declared there was a better prospect of Great Britain's proposals to Ireland being heeded today and of Ireland accepting the invitation to enter the British commonwealth as an equal than for years, but that the conference was still in a critical stage. Beyond this he carefully refrained from divulging the results or the possibilities of the conferences now being held with the Irish representatives.

He alluded to the economic troubles afflicting the world, such as followed the Napoleonic wars. He expressed convictions that the force of the cyclone was spent and followed with a recital of numerous symptoms indicating that a revival was coming, particularly the fact that in every land the slackness that seemed to overcome labor, is passing away.

Of the Irish negotiations he said in conclusion:

"I cannot reveal any secrets of the conference room; that is the way to bring a conference to naught. All I can say is that there is a better prospect of our invitation to the people of Ireland to come into free partnership with the British empire as equals being heeded today than at any time for years.

"We are now at the most critical stage of the conference. There have been many faults—not all on one side. But I shall say nothing that would make it difficult for us to arrive at an agreement. There are three parties to the conference all with their own susceptibilities. Success depends on the extent you can reconcile and accommodate those differences of temperament and tradition and of interests. In order to do that, all parties must be prepared to give and take."

He repeatedly emphasized the necessity of peace, saying it was needed for the welfare of the empire, as well as for the good relations of the British Isles. The worst aspect of a family quarrel, he added, was not only that it caused unhappiness within the family, but attracted the attention of neighbors.

Declaring there could be no peace and that a great opportunity would be lost if each party approached the tangled problem determined not to budge an inch, he exclaimed:

"We who are in the conference in behalf of the British government and people regard ourselves there as the trustees of the empire, the guardians of its honor and security. It is a high trust, we realize we will not betray it."

The American ambassador, Mr. Harvey, participated in the ancient custom of drinking from the lord mayor's loving cup.

DETROIT RAILWAY

QUASHING OF ALL INDICTMENTS MAY BE ASKED BY COUNSEL

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Motions by the defense to quash the embezzlement and conspiracy indictments against Governor Len Small when his attorneys appeared before Judge Clare C. Edwards in the Lake county circuit court next Saturday appeared more than a possibility tonight.

Such motions will in all probability be made before the defense makes its contemplated plea of "not guilty." This much of the plans of the governor's counsel became known tonight.

C. C. LeFogee of Decatur and Werner W. Schroeder, the governor's leading team of lawyers, will probably confer in Chicago tomorrow. Mr. Schroeder said tonight, before leaving Springfield, "The status of the case is such that any preliminary motion or plea can be made by the defense next Saturday the day set for their appearance in the Lake county court. If the plea of not guilty is made, Governor Small must be present in court. This appeared unlikely tonight, altho Mr. Schroeder admitted that the motions to quash the indictments might be made then.

The Saturday appearance, however, Mr. Schroeder said, is considered more of an informal conference with the court by both the prosecution and the defense.

State's Attorney Mortimer said tonight that the prosecution will be prepared Saturday to meet any move the defense may offer. His chief assistant, Edward Pree, expects to go to Waukegan Friday, and Mr. Mortimer will probably be there himself next Saturday. Regardless of all motions and pleas counsel for the governor to night declared they hoped in the very near future to see a date set for the opening of the trial.

Mr. Schroeder gave the impression tonight that he knew nothing of any negotiations to retain James Hamilton Lewis, former Democratic senator and Governor Small's opponent for the gubernatorial honors last year, as counsel for the governor in the coming trial.

If you read the Chicago or St. Louis papers which reached Jacksonville Tuesday you found nothing in them about the Illinois Central robbery. The reason was easy, for the story published in the Journal was not received until about 1:30 a. m., a time when the city papers were in the mails. This is only one of the numerous instances which demonstrate the advantage of the downstate newspaper in presenting to its readers the latest telegraphic news.

The price of gas has been increased in Chicago at the same time that a story was released of a coming increased demand and consequent shortage. The news is at hand also that the gas price war in Cass county has been settled and that the fuel fluid there is now selling at prices quite in line with those asked in other localities. Usually there are complaints when gasoline prices go higher, but in this instance if the action indicates a greater demand because of renewed business activity, nobody could make serious objection.

Talking about increased business activity reminds that the management of the C. B. & Q. railroad takes an optimistic view of future conditions. The road has placed a large order for equipment and the announcement means something coming from such a source, for the Burlington railroad has the name of being one of the best managed railroad properties in the United States. It does business on a business basis with satisfactory results both to its stockholders and to the public in the service rendered.

FARMERS VIEWPOINT IS CLEARLY GIVEN
Committee on Agriculture At President's Unemployment Conference Made Important Recommendations
The committee on agriculture at the president's unemployment conference, made an especially sane report. At the suggestion of County Agent Kendall the report is presented herewith:
"This committee represents an industry employing more workers and involving an aggregate investment far greater than in any other industry. This industry provides more than half of the raw materials used in manufactures, furnishes approximately fifty per cent of the gross freight revenue of the railroads, and makes a consumer's market for forty per cent of the consuming power of the nation, a basic industry on which all industries and workers depend for food and the raw materials of clothing and many of the other necessities of life, and has a powerful and all-pervading influence on unemployment. Every manufacturing, transportation, commercial and financial enterprise, and every home in the land is vitally interested in the prosperity of agriculture."
"There is no acute problem of unemployment in the agricultural industry. On the contrary, this industry is absorbing or at least providing a haven for great numbers of unemployed from the industrial centers. In the face of falling prices and vanishing profits, farmers have maintained their production of food and other raw materials, even when they had no assurance or reasonable hope of receiving for their products a price equal to their production costs. In instances they have done this on mere subsistence wages. Cotton farmers, for example, have willingly accepted from the banks advances of $10 per month with which to pay their laborers with nothing advanced for the living of their own families. Thanks to this willing and often unprofitable activity on the part of farmers, the nation now has a great abundance of food products and raw materials for clothing."

"The farmers' difficulty and the cause of much of the industrial distress and unemployment in the cities grew out of the fact that the prices received by farmers enables them to buy only about half as many manufactured products at the prices asked as they purchased in normal times. The purchasing power of the farmer has been so greatly reduced that he is not buying his usual supplies. He can not. In the case of farm implements, the purchases have been reduced to one-third of the amount bought in previous years. Many farmers have lost their savings of a life time. "The farm population constitutes forty per cent of the total of the nation. When farmers do not buy, the business of small towns stagnates, manufacturing plants restrict operations, or close, as many of them have been forced to do. The larger cities and transportation suffer accordingly. "The farmer can not continue to exist on the present basis. His share is too low or others are receiving too much. A lessened agricultural income has slowed down all lines of business. General prosperity cannot return until agriculture, by far our greatest productive industry, resumes normal conditions. In the interest of the great laboring industries of the country everything possible should be done to place agriculture on a proper ratio of exchange of products with other industries."

JAZZVILLE ALL STARS DEFEATED AT CHAPIN
Team Composed of Illinois College Men Lose First Game of Season to Chapin Woodmen Team.

In a closely contested game of basketball played at Chapin Wednesday night the Jazzville All Stars, made up of Illinois College men not out for football, lost to the swift Woodmen team of Chapin by a score of 19 to 10.

The small floor and weak lights handicapped the college men whose efforts at the basket usually resulted in knocking down a rain of plaster from the ceiling which filled the players' eyes. Both teams played a good brand of basketball under the circumstances. However, the Chapin boys deserved to win and the college men considered themselves lucky to hold the Woodmen to as close a score as they did on such a small and unfamiliar floor.

LOOK FOR TOUGH GAME SATURDAY
Coach Mitchell's High School Squad Regard Springfield as One of the Hardest Teams of the Schedule—Have no Turkey Day Game
Jacksonville high is preparing for a hard struggle Saturday afternoon when it meets the Springfield high team on Illinois field.
Springfield and Jacksonville have records for the season that are similar. Both teams at the beginning of the season lost their first games. Jacksonville lost first to Hannibal but being out of the state does not regard it as a stain on her season's record. The only other game lost was to Pittsfield high.
Springfield lost her first game to Greenfield. However, after those first games, both teams braced and have developed from what appeared to be weak sisters, into two of the most formidable football machines in this part of the state.
Neither has lost a game since the opening, except for those mentioned, and both are now going at top speed. Jacksonville came out of the Waverly game in good shape and reports from the capital city are that its team came out of her game last Saturday in good condition. Springfield is working hard as they realize it will take real football to win from Jacksonville. Indications are that the team will be accompanied here by several hundred rooters.
Coach Mitchell received word yesterday that the Palmyra football had disbanded for the season because of injuries. Palmyra played here last Thanksgiving and Jacksonville was to have played there this year. Decatur high is also without a game on that day. Coach Mitchell will try to get in touch with Decatur and book a game. However, it is likely that Decatur wants a game away from home too, as Milliken plays a game there on Thanksgiving day.

WILL MAKE TRIP TO THE FAR EAST
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rees of Springfield and W. G. McFarland of Decatur known quite well in Jacksonville are to leave in January for a three months' trip into the Far East. The travelers will spend some time in Egypt and in Africa. One month's time will be spent in visiting places of interest along the Nile and about an equal time in Palestine.
Mr. Rees, who is one of the publishers of the State Register, has been extensive traveler and this is only one of several overseas trips.

WORK ON HOSPITAL IS PROGRESSING
Work on the bid addition to Our Savior's hospital is progressing in a very satisfactory way. Construction has been pushed to such an extent by the Jobst Co. that the walls are now almost completed to the roof line. Given a little more good weather the contractors will have the building enclosed and it will be possible to continue the building operations thru the winter months.

THE UNITY NEW ERA
The November number of The Unity New Era, a paper published in Woodson in the interests of the Unity Presbyterian church in that place, has been issued and is a very creditable affair. The indefatigable pastor, Rev. A. E. Powell, is the editor, doubtless publisher and mostly all else, though this is guess work on the part of the writer.

The paper contains a roster of the officers of the various bodies connected with the church, such as Sunday school, missionary societies and the like; also a list of the officers of the society. There is a department devoted to local news, a stirring editorial, a number of selected articles and some advertisements, and the whole makes a readable publication speaking well for the church and pastor.

No suit of clothes is better than the tailoring that's in it, no matter how crisply new its appearance may be.

No suit of clothes can really fit, can really hang as it should, unless it is made for the man who wears it.

Quality is the fundamental thing about a suit of clothes—it is the only thing in your suit that endures.

Price is actually incidental, for without quality the cheapest price is an extravagance.

HIGHEST TRIBUTE OF NATION IS ACCORDED TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

gun forward barked again the passing of another minute.

Step by step the bearers labored down the plank to the cobbled dock below. Again the pipe above wailed as they stepped ashore and the unknown was again on American soil.

Slowly the flag draped casket moved down between the lines of troops and marines, the blue-jackets standing rigidly at the ship's rails high above. As they came abreast of the band the dirge was still, a marine bugler sounded four flourishes of salute to a general officer. Then the stirring, lifting strains of the Star Spangled Banner rang out to the gray sky, the nation's own hymn of freedom.

Again the slow march to the waiting gun carriage was taken up; again the wail of the funeral march cut thru with the crash the gun above sounded. The caisson waited between the second and third squadrons of the full strength of the cavalry from Fort Myer and beside it stood the eight body bearers of the army headed by Sergeant Woodfill, hero of heroes among Americans who fought in France.

The soldiers took over the burden at the gun carriages and then could be seen a withered handful of flowers, the only decoration on the flag wrapped casket. They were the blooms with which the casket was chosen from other there in France before the long journey home again. They will go with the unknown to his last sleep at Arlington.

As the casket was strapped in place an order rang out and the cavalry band swung off playing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Behind them, sabres, capbrims and sodden colors dripping with rain, came the troopers four abreast, troop after troop. After the caisson and the following squadrons were Secretaries Weeks and Denby in a closed car, General Pershing and Admiral Cootz, and behind these the other officers and officials.

Thousands Line Streets.

The horses swung away at a slow trot. Ahead the winding round was lined with marines at present arms, and behind them, packed the thousands of just plain American citizens who had braved cold and rain for hours to stand bareheaded as the body of this honored fellow countryman was carried by.

Out thru the gateway the cortege clattered to find other crowds lining the way. On it went to swing at last into the great plaza before the capitol and there troopers again drew up in line, facing the massive building with sabres at "present" as the casket was carried up the wide staircase to be placed on the catafalque in the dim rotunda. The two secretaries bareheaded followed and behind them the officers and the others.

There were few in the great hall. The only lights were those high among the pillars above the sculptured walls and the last fading gleams of day, thru the high windows. The waiting guard stood at present arms as the casket was carried in and set in place on the high black draped structure on which the body of McKinley was the last to repose in state.

There was a pause then until the ring of a command out on the plaza, the flurry of drawn steel as the sabres of the cavalry leaped out to "present," to announce that President and Mrs. Harding had arrived.

As the President and Mrs. Harding came into the dim chamber, brilliant lights leaped up to make possible a picturing of the scene for all America to see. The cameras clicked, there was no other sound. About the bier the guard stood with rifle butts grounded.

Place Tributes On Casket.

Mrs. Harding stepped forward a wide white ribbon in her hand. She had stitched it herself and stopping up on the base of the catafalque, she laid it across the casket, a slash of white across the rain sodden flag with its withered cluster of French flowers. As Mrs. Harding stepped down, the President took her place and to the ribbon pinned a silver shield of the United States, set with forty eight golden stars. It is symbolic of the heart of the nation that goes with this soldier to his tomb.

Then a great wreath of crimson roses was handed to Mr. Harding and he laid it softly on the casket near the head and gave place to Vice President Coolidge and Speaker Gillett who laid the tribute of congress, a wreath of pink roses and snap-dragons, in place. Chief Justice Taft moved forward, bearing the floral tribute of the supreme court, a wreath of chrysanthemums and carnations.

Secretary Weeks laid the army's token of remembrance, wreath of white roses against the casket at the head, and Secretary Denby placed the navy's offering, chrysanthemums and roses. Over, and to one side, next the wall was placed the great masses of pink blossoms that were warmed to life by the sun of France to be carried all the long way—on the Olympia.

Pershing Gives Salute to the Dead.

Then General Pershing stepped forward to place his own tribute and that of the American Expeditionary Force on this unknown gallant comrade's coffin. It was a wreath of giant pink chrysanthemums and as he placed it, he paused a moment then stepped back a pace or two and drawing his figure to its full height lifted

LOCAL RESIDENT SEES
INTERESTING EXHIBITSDisplay of Antique: Shown at Marshall Field Store.

A resident of this city has recently returned from a visit in Chicago, during which he had the pleasure of seeing some very interesting historical exhibits at Marshall Field's shown in connection with numerous pictures of prominent buildings and edifices that were destroyed by the great Chicago fire.

Several antiques belonging to Lincoln are exhibited. The carriage in which he rode to the theater the night he was shot can be seen, and some of the president's hats, including the tall stovepipe beaver that is often portrayed in his pictures.

Another interesting exhibit shows the wagon in which the founder of the great Studebaker company drove to this section of the country in. It is a heavy antique affair, all made by this man Studebaker himself, a typical prairie schooner.

There is also a display of heirlooms belonging to S. T. Atkinson, manager of the first floor in this section of Marshall Field's, which has a rare collection of lace garments from the old days. They are reputed to be over a hundred years old. The display includes wedding dresses of some of his maternal ancestors, numerous items of very old style, and also a pair of the obsolete copper toed shoes.

Another exhibit is that of a famous bed room set of the old and widely known Palmer House. This set of furniture was reserved for the advent of royalty and other high personages and is very elaborately decorated with carving. Other displays of antique furniture can be seen and altogether the displays are well worth seeing from both standpoint of enjoyment and of historical value.

CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Moses Greenleaf Hostess
To Orleans Country Club

Mrs. Moses Greenleaf was the hostess to the Orleans Woman's Country club Wednesday afternoon. An interesting paper on "Are Clubs Worth While," was read by Mrs. A. A. Curry. After the paper there were numerous remarks by members regarding the paper and they were unanimous in agreeing that clubs are very much worth while.

During the afternoon, Mr. Kendall, the county farm advisor, gave a demonstration of poultry culling.

During the business session, Mr. Robert Hamilton was voted to membership in the club, Mrs. Laura Hallerberg was a guest of the club for the afternoon.

During the social hour delicious refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned to meet November 22 with Mrs. Clyde Cox. The regular annual open meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Arnold, on November 30.

Big Dinner to be Served to Ex-Servicemen at Noon Friday—
Railroad Surveyors Arrive—
Other News from White Hall.

White Hall, Nov. 9.—Mayor H. W. Roodhouse has proclaimed a holiday next Friday, Armistice Day, and requests that business cease between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4:30 p. m. In deference to the expressions of members of the American Legion the big dinner at noon will not be free to ex-service men, as previously announced. This will be held in Legion hall, and will be followed by a parade at 2:30 o'clock, and exercises will be held on the bank corner.

A surveying party of the Chicago & Alton Railroad is in the field to establish a route for the double track between Manchester and Hillview that is to be the beginning of double-tracking the western division west from Murfreesboro. Several lines are proposed, and it will be some time before all the data is procured and comparisons made for definitely fixing the route.

Catalogues are being mailed today for the annual sale of Percheron mares and stallions at Gregory Farm. The date has been set for November 25th, the day after Thanksgiving and the day before the opening of the International. The offerings as catalogued consist of thirteen stallions and seventeen mares, mostly descendants of Carnot, the $40,000 grand champion Percheron stallion at Gregory Farm. Visitors arriving on the day before the sale will be tendered a Thanksgiving dinner in the Corsa home. Dinner will be served in a tent on the sale grounds the day of the sale. The catalogue embraces sixty-eight pages.

TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS
IN GREENE COUNTY

Buggy of Ivan Myers Demolished
by Collision With Auto—Other
News From White Hall and Vicinity.

White Hall, Nov. 9.—Accidents of the past few days include the demolishing of two buggies that were run into by careless automobile drivers. Ivan Myers in a buggy with his wife and little child was driving east from Hillview and on reaching the hollow just west of the Claude Seely place, midway between White Hall and Hillview, an auto from the opposite direction crashed into the buggy and just missed the team, demolishing the buggy and scratching and bruising the occupants. The accident occurred just after dark, about 6 o'clock. First reports were that the child had been badly injured, but its injuries proved to be nothing of a serious nature.

Howard Doyle, driving an auto, ran head-on into a buggy driven by William Elliott and accompanied by Miss Beatrice Williams. Elliott drove into the bank in an effort to avoid the collision, and his horse was knocked down and the buggy wrecked. Elliott was thrown about ten feet, and suffered two cracked ribs and hurt about the shoulder, while Miss Williams suffered a broken collar bone, she being hurled about eight feet. This accident occurred about 7:30 p. m.

Harold Killbrew does not believe in using his foot on which to rest the barrel of a shotgun, as he was thus doing last Saturday evening, when the gun was accidentally discharged, almost severing a big toe, and the attending physician has since had a race in combating blood poisoning. Killbrew is about 14 years of age, and he resides with George Terhune in the vicinity of Patterson.

Survey for Double Track.
C. & A. surveyors started surveys at Manchester Monday for the proposed line from Manchester to Hillview that is designed to eliminate the grade between Drake and Roodhouse. This survey will follow a creek grade north of Roodhouse, and if found sufficiently feasible the new double track will follow that course. This survey is to be compared with another survey into White Hall from the west. A double track has been constructed between Roodhouse and Manchester that will be put in service early in December, and it is difficult to reconcile the proposed route north of Roodhouse with the new double track between Roodhouse and Manchester that is now about to be put in service.

From a speculative standpoint the route into White Hall from the west is the most feasible. It would make a direct line to the C. & A. track at White Hall for the north and at the same time eliminate the heavy grade east of Drake. It would also enable the present terminal and icing facilities at Roodhouse to be utilized just as they are at present, and the one best bet is that the White Hall cut-off will be the final solution of the C. & A. double-tracking from east to west, as it has the added advantage of affording a shorter route between St. Louis and Kansas City and does not add one foot to the present mileage east and west via Roodhouse while eliminating the Drake hill.

Mrs. Guy Lowenstein, Mrs. W. L. Winn and Mrs. Mark Lowenstein represented the White Hall chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood at the reciprocity meeting in Carlisle Monday. Response to the address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. Guy Lowenstein. The White Hall ladies were entertained at the home of Mrs. Percy Cokson, a former citizen of White Hall, and this added immensely to the pleasure of the visit.

AGED RESIDENT OF VIRGINIA PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Sarah A. Crum Died at Early Hour Wednesday Morning After Long Illness—Funeral Services
Saturday Afternoon.

Virginia, Nov. 9.—The death of Mrs. Sarah A. Crum, one of the oldest residents of this city, came at 12:10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the family home here. The deceased had been ill since last January and her condition was such that death was not unexpected.

Mrs. Crum was born near Arcadia May 7, 1840, and she was therefore past eighty-one years of age at the time of her death. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson, pioneer residents of Morgan county. March 1, 1857 the deceased was united in marriage to T. J. Crum, who passed away in 1911. For years the family home was maintained on a farm near Virginia, and it was not until seventeen years ago that the home was removed to Virginia, where the deceased has since resided.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: C. E. Crum, Bismarck, North Dakota; O. M. Crum, Virginia; W. S. Crum, Cattlesburg, Ky.; Mrs. S. N. Marshall, Mo.; Mrs. W. C. DeLapp, Pasadena, Calif.; H. O. Crum, Britton, Okla.; Eben Crum, residing on the home farm in Cass county; Tom A. Crum, Yates Center, Kans. One daughter, Mrs. Tresa Summers, is deceased, members of her family now residing in Colorado, Springs, Colo. There also survive the following brothers and sister: David Henderson, Galva, Ill.; A. L. Henderson and Henry Henderson, Nevada, Mo.; Barney Henderson, Stockton, Calif.; Mrs. C. P. Stout, Millers Place, Long Island. One sister, Mrs. Myra Mink, passed away six years ago at Galva, Ill.

Mrs. Crum was for years a member of the Methodist Protestant church and during all her long life was a consistent and faithful Christian. She was a woman of many fine characteristics and found her greatest pleasures in serving her family and friends.

The funeral services will be held at the family home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Max B. Wiles, pastor of the Virginia Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

Get Away
This Winter!

Get away from business and household responsibilities, care and worry. Get out into the glorious, semi-tropical atmosphere of California, where health, rest, comfort and delightful outdoor activities await you—amidst the flowers and orange blossoms beside the blue Pacific. 'Twill do you a world of good! If your neighbor has been there, ask him—he knows.

Be sure you make the most of the trip, however, and see Denver, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Pueblo, the Royal Gorge, Scenic Colorado, Salt Lake City and the Feather River Canyon through the Sierra Nevada Range—in daylight.

Unless you are in a great hurry, be sure and enjoy the famous sights along this premier scenic route to San Francisco—connecting service from Salt Lake City via the short line to Los Angeles. A delightfully easy, care-free trip—takes a little longer, but it costs no more and is "The Route Beyond Compare if You Have Time to Spare."

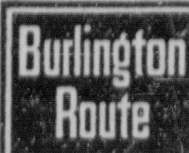

Reduced-rate round-trip tickets are now on sale daily to California—long limits, liberal stop-over privileges—go one way and return via an entirely different route.

Deducting the cost of remaining at home and considering the price of things generally, you'll be surprised how reasonably the trip can be made—especially when you contemplate what this will mean to you and remember that a life which isn't pleasantly spent isn't well spent. Think it over!

Better let me make your reservations well in advance.

How Yeast Vitamin Tablets Put On Firm Flesh

Quickly Increase Your Energy
and Beautify the Complexion—
Easy and Economical to Take.

This or run-down folks! Take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON contains highly concentrated yeast-vitamins as well as the two other still more important vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C). It is now being used by thousands who appreciate its convenience, economy and quick results. By increasing the nourishing power of what you eat Mastin's VITAMON supplies just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stomach or causing gas. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic and the complexion becomes radiantly clear and beautiful.

IMPORTANT! While the amazing health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, it should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good druggists.

Are Positively Guaranteed to Put On Firm Flesh, Clear the Skin and Increase Energy When Taken With Every Meal or Money Back

"M. W."
It is not the custom to confer the degree of M. W. on the man who is a Master of Wiring, but it ought to be. Then you'd know what calibre of man to select for the job and what kind of wiring you'd get as the result.
Although no university has ever conferred the degree of M. W. on us and probably never will, our experience easily enables us to adopt these two letters as our token of reliability.
Whether M. W. appears after our name or not we indubitably stamp it on the wiring and on the electrical work which we conscientiously do.

A Giraffe Story
There is a delightful and very ancient story about an old farmer who went to the circus and looked at the giraffe and, being familiar with only horses and cows and never having seen a giraffe, suddenly exclaimed, "By Heck, there ain't no sich animal."
Fortunately for the progress of who cannot believe even what the world the number of people priced instruments. they see, is limited. We know very well that there are people in this community who believe our pianos and players are all high.
If you will but pay us a visit we guarantee to give some price data that will, like the giraffe, demonstrate itself.
We handle excellent, nationally known instruments at very low prices, making it possible for music lovers of even the most limited means to have music in the home.

MAKE EXTENSIVE STORE BETTERMENTS
Extensive Corset Department Improvements Made by F. J. Waddell & Company.
(From Modart Bulletin, Saginaw, Michigan.)
In line with the progressive spirit which characterized the building up of the F. J. Waddell & Company store, the Jacksonville home of Modart corsets, from a small business to one of the largest in central Illinois comes the announcement of the enlargement and remodeling of their corset department to be better able to handle their rapidly increasing corset business and the installation of up-to-date fitting rooms and equipment.
The extensive changes which have been made in the corset department will afford the most up-to-date and efficient service possible for these patrons of the store. The changes have been made after a careful study of the newer ideas which are being carried out in the different department stores over the country.
The corset department has been removed from the main floor to the second floor. Here, two fitting rooms have been furnished with the most carefully chosen and up-to-date appointments. The regular fitting room is furnished in French ivory and contains two tall length fitting mirrors. Chairs and a dressing table complete the appointments for this room.
The surgical fitting room with furnishings designed for the most efficient service in surgical cases, affords to the patrons of the firm accommodations which are ordinarily available only in the larger cities. It is universally conceded by surgeons and hospital officials that the proper fitting of a corset is closely connected with the success of operative cases. This new surgical fitting room will afford the most efficient and modern service possible along this branch.
Miss Emma D. Hunter, who has for many years been at the head of the corset department at Waddell's will have charge of all the surgical work. She is a graduate corsetiere and is an expert in her line. Miss Hunter works in cooperation with the doctors and has given most satisfactory service in difficult cases which she has been called upon to handle. Miss Esther Collins is her assistant in the department.
The management feels that the removal of the corset department to the second floor, will make it more private and will bring this department up to the same high standard of the other departments in the store. The fitting of a corset, today, is one of the most essential features of the properly groomed woman's attire and it is felt that these changes will enable the rendering of the best possible advice and services for their patrons.
The changes have made the second floor of the store very attractive in appearance. The appointments in the fitting rooms are well chosen and the other rearrangements add greatly to the up-to-date and efficient appearance as well as service attained by the Waddell store.

WOOD WAS FORMER COUNTY RESIDENT
Was Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood—Funeral Services to be Held at Pisgah.
The news of the death of Ernest Wood, who was electrocuted Tuesday afternoon while at work on the pumping station of the Hillview Drainage and Levee district, will come as a shock to local people. Mr. Wood was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood who are prominent residents of the Pisgah neighborhood and well known and respected in this community.
The remains were brought to Jacksonville yesterday noon and were taken to the undertaking parlors of C. E. Williamson and Son and prepared for burial. The body was later taken to the home of Mr. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood near Pisgah. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Union Baptist church, in Pisgah, of which the deceased was a member. Interment will be in the church cemetery.
At the time of his death Mr. Wood was making his home in Louisiana, Missouri. He is survived by his widow and five children, his parents, one sister, Miss Bernice Wood, of Pisgah, and two brothers, Leonard, of Pisgah, and Otto Wood of Peoria.

UNITED BUDGET CAMPAIGN UNIT IN A COMMUNITY
Jacksonville has been too much divided in its social conscience. It has too long lived a disjointed life so far as its charities are concerned. In this respect it is like hundreds of cities.
Now the question is whether we shall follow some thirty or forty other cities and have one annual drive for all local charities at once? Can we pool the public benevolences of Jacksonville without loss to any necessary cause and also with gain to our community conscience? Our most progressive thinkers say, yes.
You have your pet charity and you like to give to that alone! Is that just? Is that broad? Does such a spirit unite a community? Does it leave its separate units competing in parallel channels? Or hostile interests working at cross purposes? My friend co-operation is the law of life. A community is an organism and can thrive only when each organ works in unison with every other organ. "Can the eye say to the head, I have no need of thee?" If Jacksonville is to be a thriving organism, the organs must "get together."
Get out of your shell, my friend. We must all achieve a larger sympathy. Too many of us wear blinders and do not know how narrow we are. I owe something to every good, necessary cause in Jacksonville. I also owe something to the thousands of orphans starving in Armenia.
Both Jacksonville and the Near East need my active help now. My charity, therefore, must be broad. I cannot afford to stop with one church or with one outside charity. I must get out of my rut and get off my blinders.
I may love the Red Cross, but I must also support the Salvation Army. Each does something the other can not do. The Social Service league may be our pet, but you must admit the Anti-Tuberculosis society discharges a specific and timely necessity.
Arise and stretch the limbs of your benevolence. Get outside your denominational fence. Stand shoulder to shoulder with world-wide workers. Be a teacher of the tuberculosis, a friend of ex-service men, and a rescuer of orphans. Do not be afraid of scattering too widely. Pull together with the big-hearted men in the community and you will be bigger hearted.
A man in the Bible prayed "enlarge my heart," and "unite my heart." Jacksonville needs both and I need both, that is, breadth of vision and unity of aim. Michael Angelo once looked over the painful canvas of one of his pupils, and taking a piece of chalk, wrote on the edge of the picture one word, "amplify." That's it, "broader."
Let us widen the social conscience of this community by pouring in a knowledge of the facts. Let us unite over charitable impulses and deepen our impact into one great effort and so bring back and maintain the fine breadth of the war-time appeal!

THESE COATS WILL ARRIVE ON WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY AND BE THEN ON SALE.

COMPETENT WOOD CHOPPER
Yesterday morning, the writer saw John Tribble leave a hardware store with a new axe under his arm and inquiry disclosed the fact that Mr. Tribble works in the city during the open season and when work slackens up here he takes to the woods with his ax and chops cord wood. He says he gets plenty to do and surely he earns his money. He says he can cut his two cords a day, in reasonably good timber, and that is a good day's work.
Before the Civil war, 50 cents a cord was the standard price for chopping cord wood and two cords a day was the general average in good timber, though once the writer saw a young man who would cut his four cords a day, but he was a very rare exception. In those days too, a cord of ordinary wood sold for $1.25 and a superior quality, hickory and the like, brought $1.50, delivered.
But then, eggs were six to eight cents a dozen; flour, $4.50 to $5 a barrel; chickens, 20 to 25 cents each; potatoes, 20 cents a bushel, and a man worked regularly for $1 a day and boarded himself, and on a farm for 50 cents a day and board.
The writer has seen thousands of cords of good wood in northwestern Ohio burned to get it out of the way. A log-rolling was a big event on a farm to be cleared and great heaps of good timber were thus burned because there was no market for the wood.

Large bodies have slowly and the delay has been bad for the eager, impatient ones, but the machinery is here and will be installed as rapidly as possible. It will inaugurate a new era in the conduct of the worthy institution and be a great factor in its success.

BALER WEEK AT JUNIOR HIGH
The Junior High school is the scene of a great deal of activity this week. All of the students and teachers are exerting every effort to make "Baler Week," a big success. Stacks of old newspapers, magazines and papers of every description are to be seen in the store room and in the gymnasium where they are being sorted under the direction of teachers. The enthusiasm of the enterprise does not interfere with studies as the students bring the papers before and after school hours.
The money realized from "Baler Week," is to be used for school equipment and various needs on the Junior High. The money will belong to the school and may be used for whatever the students decide they want most for their school. A similar Baler week was held six years ago and the proceeds amounted to about $100. The proceeds will not be so large this year as the price of paper is not so high but the money will be enjoyed fully as much as before and will purchase things which the school needs.
There is a keen spirit of rivalry among the different groups of students but everywhere the spirit of co-operation is noticed. Everyone is working together in a common cause and the feeling of unity which such an enterprise fosters is worth a great deal in wealth of experience, even tho the actual money proceeds be small.
The contest closes tonight. The total figures Tuesday night were:

These Are All Reasons Why Your Furnace Should Be a WEIR
Not because we sell it—but because of the several reasons in YOUR favor that we point out below: The figures on the illustration will help you to understand the text.
(1) The famous WEIR firepot that pre-heats the air that then enters the combustion chamber and contributes to a much hotter flame—and saves coal.
(2) The WEIR extra-heat radiator that assures a maximum of the flames get to the flue-opening. This means more heat in the rooms—and saves coal.
(3) Electrically welded seams—seams that prevent gas or soot from escaping into the rooms.
(4) The WEIR water pan placed where it assures a maximum of MOIST warm air and more healthy atmosphere.
(5) Large double feed door that makes it easy to use large chunks of fuel in the furnace.
(6) Large double casing rings that make a more rigid casing and prevent leakage.
These real reasons for the WEIR can be better explained to you in person. Come in and let us talk it over with you.

LARGE BUYING IN STOCK MARKET

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Large buying orders from speculative sources came into the stock market over the election day recess and prices of various popular issues especially oil, steel and kindred shares were substantially enhanced. The broad demand for oil was materially assisted by more advances for the crude products in almost all parts of the country.

In the case of Mexican Petroleum however, which dominated the market at a net gain of 7 1/2 points, the movement was based mainly on technical conditions the shorts paying heavy tolls.

Rails, steels and issues of like description drifted aimlessly for a time but came briskly forward in the last half of the session. Purchases of those stocks were accompanied by the weekly survey of trade authorities which emphasized the more hopeful feeling in that industry. Sales amounted to 865,000 shares, cables stating that Germany is preparing to meet her next reparations payment accounted for the moderate rally in marks, first in London and then here. Sterling was firm.

Liberty and most other active bonds were irregular on further profit-taking. The international group also showing no market trend. Total sales (par value) $15,675,000.

DR. IRA LANDRITH MAKES ADDRESSES

Subject Was the "Atlas of the Water Wagon"—Speaker Was Heard With Close Interest by Audiences.

Dr. Ira Landrith of Chicago, president of the Intercollegiate Association, spoke twice in Jacksonville yesterday, in the morning at Illinois college to a crowded chapel, and last night to a large audience at Northminster Presbyterian church. He speaks at 10 o'clock this morning to the students, friends and faculty of Illinois Woman's College, his second address in that institution.

Last night his theme was "Atlas on the Water Wagon," a plea for law enforcement in America and the carrying of prohibition to all the nations of the world, an undertaking, he thinks, that can be successful only if the colleges and universities of the Orient and the Occident can be reached and aroused for sobriety in conduct and prohibition in government.

He was particularly severe in his arraignment of bootleggers and the political allies, the officers of the law who fail to arrest and punish bootleggers. He quoted with approval the declaration of candidate James M. Cox, that "an officer who doesn't prosecute bootleggers is meaner than a bootlegger." "and," added Dr. Landrith, "if you want to know anything meaner than that, ask the devil—no man knows." The man who patronizes bootleggers is worse, for he encourages crime and treason without having the courage of the criminal—he takes no chances.

History of Prohibition
Reviewing the history of the coming of prohibition and the majority of 15 to one, 35 to three he said that since prohibition could never be repealed it must be enforced. "If we got prohibition by so overwhelming a majority when the wets were inside looking out, and before the women had the ballot, surely we can keep it when the wets are hopelessly on the outside looking in."

Some of Dr. Landrith's frequent aphorisms and quips were: "You have had your last glass of legally made beverage containing as much as one per cent alcohol and if you try to get drunk on less than half per cent alcohol you'll have a blow-out in your tire."

"The newspaper that encourages violation of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution is a traitor and should be kept out of the United States mails."

"We mere men cleaned house and brought in prohibition and then gave you women the mop and you'll surely help us keep it clean."

"Political parties are like dogs—you have to drain them once in a while to get rid of the wiggles tails."

"I am not a straight Democrat because I want to be a straight man; and if you Republicans can be both straight men and straight Republicans, you are moral acrobats—Let's see you perform."

"What difference will it make to us when we get to Heaven whether we came by free will or foreordination, land or water, flying machine or Ford—and don't laugh at the Ford in connection with Heaven, for it is the one car that will go up on high."

"Rage prejudice is the child of sin and ignorance, un-American, un-Christian and cowardly, and we must be rid of it if we are to lead the world to peace, so truly and the Cross of Christ."

Etiquette to Flag Passing in Review

When the flag is hoisted, when it is carried in a review or parade, civilian spectators should stand "at attention," with bared heads, their hats held opposite the left shoulder with their right hand.

The same salute accorded the flag should be given the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Observance of these points is urged by the patriotic organizations of the community.

C. OF C. WORKING ON BUDGET CAMPAIGN

Plans of Committee Rounding Out in Good Shape—Campaign Officially Opens Sunday

The work of the United Budget campaign committee is now holding most of the attention of the Chamber of Commerce. The plans of the committee are rounding out in fine shape and they are practically all completed. It has been found necessary to secure some extra office help at the chamber to take care of all the campaign matters.

The campaign will be officially opened Sunday with announcements in all the churches. Signs will be furnished for the street cars, advertising the campaign and the city will be systematically placarded. Rev. Thomas Smith, director of the campaign speakers, has completed his list and will deliver an inspirational address at the meeting of all the campaign workers to be held in the Peacock Inn Monday.

The Chamber of Commerce rooms will be the official headquarters for the campaign and there will be a large sign on the outside of the building, designating it as such.

The superintendent of schools, H. A. Perrin, has called a meeting of all the captains of the teams, for this afternoon, in his capacity of director of this branch of the organization. At this meeting the lists of workers will be checked up to make sure that there is no duplication. It is the belief and hope of the captains that by starting work in earnest on Tuesday, the required amount will have been raised by the following Friday.

TRIBUTE COMMENTS

MISS MOORE'S VERSES
Recently "The Unknowning," a poem by Miss Margaret K. Moore, appeared in the Journal. It was first given publication in the New York Times of August 14, 1921, and was reprinted in the Journal in the series of poems from the pens of Morgan county poets. Yesterday the Chicago Tribune reprinted "The Unknowning" with the succinct comment that "it merits universal circulation." Certainly that sentence of four words gives very strong commendation to the work of this Jacksonville writer.

CLOSED FRIDAY
All day in honor of Armistice Day
F. J. WADDELL & CO.

CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET
Members of the Morgan county bar met yesterday, in accordance with notice of Circuit Clerk Wankmaker, to arrange the docket for the first week of the November term. Only three cases were set. They are: Monday, Nov. 14—Jacob DeOrnellas vs. the Avery Co., asumpsit.

Wednesday, Nov. 16—Susan H. Dickson vs. J. Weir Elliott, et al., appeal; A. R. Garnett, vs. Trustees A. M. E. church, appeal.

Specked apples, $1 per bushel delivered.
W. S. CANNON PROD. CO.

WESTMINSTER CHURCH GAVE SEWING
Women of Westminster church took part in an all day sewing at the home of Mrs. J. H. Rayhill and Mrs. Kitchner on Westminster street. Luncheon was served at the noon hour. In the afternoon the number of workers was increased. Extensive preparations are being made for the bazaar to be given November 17.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Braner of the northwest part of the county called in the city yesterday.

CLUBS AND SOCIETY

Party for Arthur Large

A party was given last evening by Arthur James Large at his home on South Main street. The affair was to celebrate his twelfth birthday and twenty-two of his friends had been invited to the function. Games and other amusements filled a gay evening and every one enjoyed the party immensely. Excellent refreshments were served in the course of the evening. Mrs. Glenn Large, the host's mother, was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Leslie Harvey and Mrs. Ray.

Miss Strandberg
Hostess to L. O. F. H. Club.

Miss Louise Strandberg delightfully entertained the L. O. F. H. club at her home on South Main street last night. Cards and dancing were the order of the evening, after which dainty refreshments were served. The members of the club are: Misses Marie Seibert, Mary Clappitt, Bea Ellis, Josephine Ross, Louise Wood and Mesdames D. B. Gaskins and P. A. Henneghan and Miss Strandberg.

Miss Barr Hostess
to History Class

Miss Catherine Barr entertained the members of the history class at her home on West State street yesterday afternoon. "Education in Japan," was the subject of a very interesting discussion led by Mrs. J. W. Walton. The afternoon closed with a social hour and the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Gave Luncheon for
Dr. Ira Landrith

Mrs. M. P. Forrest of Illinois Woman's college gave a delightful 2 o'clock luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Loop cafeteria in honor of Dr. Ira Landrith. Mrs. Forrest was associated with Dr. Landrith during his regime as president of the Ward-Belmont school at Nashville, Tenn. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Langton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Edgerton and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott.

Brooklyn Ladies Aid
Met Wednesday Afternoon

The Ladies Aid of Brooklyn church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Wright of South Clay avenue. At the business session the society adopted the new constitution and by-laws. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The assistant hostesses were: Mrs. D. B. Gaskins, Mrs. E. Beasall and Mrs. Charles Teeling. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 14, with Mrs. J. W. Henry.

Sinclair Country Club
Met Wednesday

The Sinclair Country club met at the home of Mrs. Albert Swain Wednesday afternoon. The roll call was answered by the naming of a new book. A paper on "Modern Writers of Fiction" was read by Mrs. Charles Beasall. "Americanization Through Education" was read by Mrs. Harry Martin. The hostess served dainty refreshments. New officers were installed as follows: President, Mrs. Kate Brown; vice president, Mrs. Anna Mae Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Charles Curtis; and treasurer, Mrs. Richard Robinson. The next meeting will be held November 23, with Mrs. Robinson.

Wednesday Class at Johnson Home

The members of the Wednesday class were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John L. Johnson at her home in Lockwood Place. The paper of the afternoon was read by Miss Frances Wood and was an interesting discussion of the life and public work of Martin Van Buren. The meeting closed with a pleasant social hour and the hostess served dainty afternoon tea.

Surprise Party for
Irvin Brogren

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Brogren, 510 Myrtle street, was the scene of a delightful surprise party given last evening for Irvin Brogren, their son. A large number of guests had been invited to spend the evening and the hours were filled with games, music and a genuine good time. Excellent refreshments served during the evening, added to the success of the party. The affair was in honor of Irvin's birthday and was planned by his parents, and his two sisters, Miss Maude and Miss Annie Brogren.

Annual Bazaar of Catholic Ladies Aid

The annual bazaar given by the Ladies Aid society of Our Savior's church last evening at Liberty Hall was very successful

Men Look

coats
and
Suits

$20
to $50

It's a good idea, too! We welcome more and more of it because it gives us an opportunity to compare most favorably with the Overcoats and Suits of inferior grades.

When you come here you look once at the quality and once at the price—that's enough assurance for your satisfaction.

ARMISTICE DAY AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Program Will Be Given at Chapel Exercises—Students Will then Form in Marching Order for Parade

Plans have been completed for the annual Armistice day celebration at Illinois college. Beginning at 9 o'clock the program will be held in the college chapel. The college band will play appropriate patriotic selections. Following the reading of President Harding's Armistice day proclamation brief addresses will be made by Col. O. C. Smith, recently appointed managing officer of the State School for the Deaf; Miss Suzanne Mayer, instructor in French, whose home is in Belfort, France, was often under bombardment by the Germans, and by H. H. Bancroft, and R. Y. Rowe.

Miss Ruth Armstrong of the College conservatory will contribute a vocal solo. At the close of the program, the entire student body and faculty will fall in, headed by the College band, and participate in the big parade. Anyone interested in the program at the college chapel is welcome to attend the exercises.

and was largely attended and patronized.
At 6 o'clock the ladies served a delicious oyster supper after which the many booths were the centers of attraction. They included a country store, home made candy booth, and many others.

The ladies were very pleased with the results of their work and are looking for an even larger crowd this evening. Tonight the big cedar chest with all it contains will be given away. This is a very valuable prize and is sure to draw a large attendance.

The proceeds of the bazaar are to be used for charitable purposes.

ILLINOIS READY FOR EUREKA GAME

Finishes Preparations Today On Dope It Is Hard To Find the Winner

One more day of preparation remains before the Illinois lege-Eureka football game played Friday afternoon on nois field. Eureka has a sp record, so far. Their sensation came against Wesleyan, they overwhelmed the Meth team by a score of 38 to 0, and then a dangerous foe.

Comparative scores are a interesting study. Eureka and Wesleyan under, 38 to 0, week later Wesleyan trot Illinois, 19 to 6. Eureka from Monmouth, 19 to 0. nois finished Monmouth, 37. Eureka could scarcely deal only by two field goals a safety, a total of eight Illinois ran wild against Northwestern, a score of 35 to 0, there you have the dope. sit down and figure out the ner.

Illinois field was heavy muddy yesterday after making practice slow and unisfactory. The weather mand diets fair skies for Thursday Friday. It is this promise of true, the field will be fit fast game Friday.
